IT'S HANOVER

IN 1951...

Despite the torn and troubled world of 1951, this year as always Hanover College developed young men and women who will go forth into the upset universe equipped to meet the world and confident of their part in its future.

We have recorded here the past year as it has been to the students and faculty, and in the pages of the record of 1951 lie the reasons that Hanover continues to mean the best in liberal arts education, democratic living, and healthy citizenship in the world of colleges, and why its graduates though eager for the future, will wistfully remember the past.

Hanover Is Beauty . . .

The location of Hanover College on the bend of the Ohio River, looking down on farm lands and wooded hill sides cannot be surpassed in natural beauty. Suited to its perfect natural setting, the physical plan of the college is unmatched in stately Georgian architecture and in the convenient and artistically pleasing lay-out of its buildings, which are designed to meet the highest standards of educational needs.

. . . All The Year 'Round

In the fall, the hills surrounding Hanover are in a glory of autumn colors. The air is crisp, and the sun makes the blue of the Ohio silver and gold. Soon winter comes, with its deep, glistening snows, and frosted air. The trees become feathery black and white outlines against the red brick buildings, and the evergreens stand green against the snow. Winter becomes spring, and the flowering bushes, budding trees, and the young green grass are suddenly here to make us wonder which is, after all, the most beautiful season.

Hanover Is Enjoyment . . .

We elected Queen Anitsa for May Day and Queen Mimi for Homecoming. We had excitement at the football games and were tense over the awarding of prizes in competitions. The last minute decorations for formal dances and the unexpected beautiful effects they had were fun. We got together informally just because we liked to be with people. The things we did were fun and that's important too.

Hanover Is Scholarship . . .

Because the professors at Hanover are tops in their fields and because the students are interested, Hanover College offers the best in Liberal Arts education. The selection of courses is broad, and the students are offered extra opportunities to pursue their academic interests through the clubs which are sponsored by each department. Honorary societies recognize outstanding achievement on the part of students, and the faculty-student relationship is a friendly one. Frequent get togethers with a faculty member to thrash out a problem prove beneficial to the student and to the cause of education.

Hanover Is Accomplishment . . .

The year of 1951 was a successfully competitive year for the college. Although we didn't take the Hoosier Conference All-Sports Award again, we did win the national award for having the best Interfraternity council in the country, thanks to the work of John Collier, Frank Guthrie, and all the others, which more than made up for it.

The American Association of University Women recognition of Hanover came via telegram in the spring, along with the triumph of our Janet as Hoosier Cherry Blossom Queen.

Hanover Is Outreach . . .

Hanover might easily be shut off from the rest of the world in our secluded location, but our athletic schedules which take the teams all over this and neighboring states, the tours of our musical organizations, the trips to cities by the classes, and our student body from all parts of the world make Hanover a part of everything that's going on. We bring theatrical groups and fine artists to the campus, and national figures to our speaker's platform. We love our quiet surroundings, but we're very much a part of the world, and constantly reach out for more.

Hanover Is Hospitality . . .

The college in the past year has played host to a number of people and organizations of varying interests and accomplishments. The Indiana Academy of Science held its annual meeting in Goodrich Hall, and the Indiana School Music Association its group and individual competitions on campus. The Music Appreciation Club of Hanover sponsored a concert series featuring the Louisville Orchestra, to which students, visitors, and townspeople have season tickets. On our speaker's platform have appeared such personalities as Dr. Howard Stone, Milton Chase, and Robert Magidoff.

In '50 - '51 it was Draft Tests, Parking Tickets

The college saw some changes this year due to both the anxious world situation and the machine age. The men were busy boning up on Army and Navy practice tests, hoping to score successfully and be permitted by their draft boards to finish college.

With the increasing number of cars on campus, the Student Council took such measures as are pictured below to control parking and maintain a high degree of traffic safety.

There Was Snow, Snow, Snow . . .

Who can forget the fateful Thanksgiving weekend when the snow began to fall? That weekend set the pace for the rest of the winter, and we shovelled and pushed stalled cars, slipped and slid icy walks, and made snow men, and had snowball fights. Camera fans were busy photographing the gorgeous snow patterns, and the buildings with their new white frosting. We were cold, and warmed up with chatter and hot coffee; wasn't it fun?

. . . And New Buildings

Since the freshman year of the graduating class of 1951, Hanover has seen an amazing number of new buildings grow. The class of '51 saw the completion of the Auditorium, and watched Old Science come down, and Goodrich Hall take place. New Faculty Row hadn't been here long, and Men's Residence Hall came during our junior year. This year's building program includes a new President's home facing the bend in the Ohio, and a much needed new library, both scheduled for completion in the fall. To Donner Hall is being added a new wing to house about 50 girls, and a small chapel is planned for the near future in a lovely wooded location. Fraternity housing is in the sometime future, depending upon the war. Each new building with its simple, lovely Georgian design is a proud moment of each of us.

The girls at Donner need more room!

The buildings are going up, and along with them the inevitable spoofing of a fraternity, in the usual Hanover spirit.

But We Still Had Duckings, Serenades

Fraternity serenades are as much a part of Hanover life as classes. With pins floated in the Spring, Betas are floated in the Ohio, and the lucky girl is brought down from her cloud by a rude, cold shower! It's all a part of the fun but the serenade in all its romantic seriousness is a wonderful memory for years to come. A'fer the fraternity men have walked quietly away and the song has gone, a part of the night belongs to the guy and his newly pinned gal.

Bob Aldrich gets the Beta treatment.

No use fighting-----you're outnumbered!

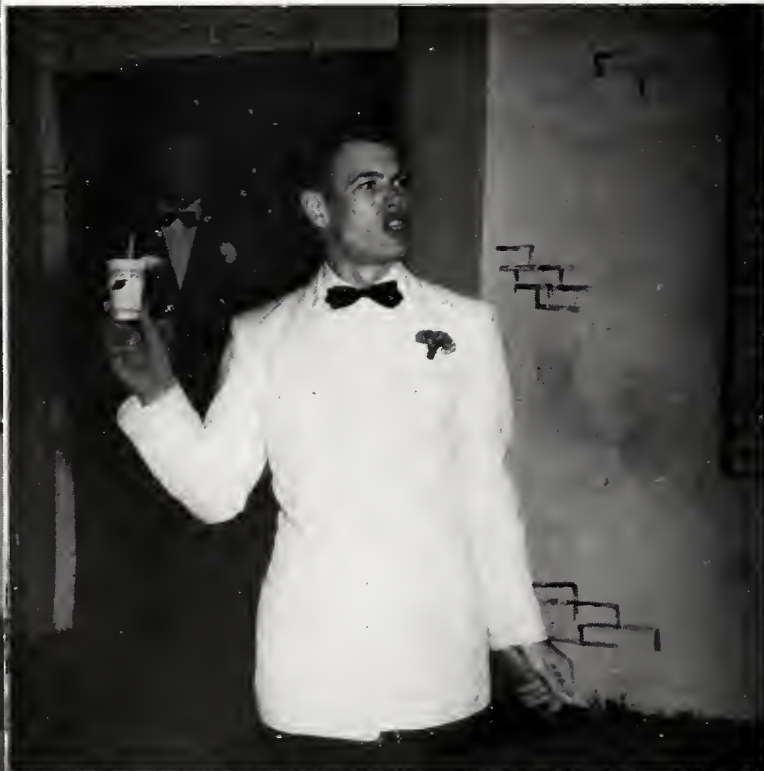

We Went To Carnivals, Plays

We had a street carnival for the W. S. S. F., and even those who got dunked had fun! The Modern Dance program took our breath away with its surrealistic sets and beautiful dances, and we lost our troubles while the Hanover Players wove their imaginative spell.

There's so much to do, with classes, homework, club meetings and all, but we found time to follow the fads, play bridge, discuss life over a coke, and bask in the spring breezes. The girls' hair was apt to change color overnight, and the fellows sported one-half crew cuts or Apache styles. The campus canine set was displayed in pet shows, and the faculty lost basketball honors to the senior men. We picnicked and partied and wrote letters to the editor . . . between term papers and exams!

Down two!

... Before The Close - of - School Rush

Guy likes Anitsa's trophy.

The busiest time of the year is at the end. In May the Women Associates were on campus for a two-day meeting. The underclassmen struggled with pre-registration for next fall, and the seniors with a class day program. The seniors were feted with luncheons and dinners, exams were taken, and the awards were given out. The Alumni Association met, and the trustees signed diplomas.

Then after the bustle subsided, members of the class of '51 marched to the auditorium stage to receive their diplomas. Behind each diploma stood the memories of fun and work and friends of all the four years, and it was almost hard to leave.

We said goodbye to our professors and friends and showed the campus and buildings to our families. We even paused for a minute on the Point to see once more the turn of the Ohio with its wooded banks, and the years of our college life are remembered with a pang as we turn to the years ahead.

ADMINISTRATION... AND FACULTY

ACROSS THE CAMPUS . . .

The Administration, faculty, classes and clubs are so interlocked in their function at Hanover, that we have grouped them together in their respective departments this year.

The faculty is highly trained and keeps constantly up-to-date in their fields. They awake interest in the students through their classes and through their willingness to help. This friendly student-faculty feeling is strengthened through the various departmental clubs, and the interest fields. They awake interest in the students through their classes and in a subject developed in classes is furthered in an atmosphere of companionship and mutual interest of the other club members.

Coordinating the functioning of all aspects of the college is the administration whose constant efforts keep the college running smoothly and make it the educational, enjoyable institution that it is.

Since the fall of 1946 when Hanover's enrollment was doubled within a year, the college has steadily expanded the administrative staff. In addition to President Parker and Deans Tate, Bucks, and Whallon, the college employs a director of admissions, David B. Tallman, a director of vocational guidance and placement and registrar, Robert Calvert, and a director of publicity, Frank S. Baker. Wilbur H. Nagel is assistant to the president, Charles W. Barnett, business manager, and Leona Snyder, senior secretary.

Mrs. Ralph Anderson has been the president's secretary and Mrs. Robert Frederick, secretary to the admissions director. Mrs. Lorene Flick has been college nurse.

Superintendent of buildings and grounds is Robert Panzer with Mrs. Albert H. Watts manager of Donner Hall and Mrs. Eva L. Littell of Men's Residence Hall. Custodian of the grounds has been Walter Dietsch.

Student Council

The twenty-four members of the Student Council representing all of the student organizations on campus were led this year by President Guy Andress. Besides acting as a liaison between faculty and students, the council provides movies and informal mixer dances and other entertainment for the student body. A matter of much discussion in the council this year was the installation of Honor System.

Gamma Sigma Pi

Gamma Sigma Pi is an honorary scholastic fraternity. To be eligible for membership candidates maintained a 2.5 average for two semesters out of three and at least a 2.00 average after becoming a member. The president of Gamma Sigma Pi is automatically the senior with the highest point average, and in case of a tie, the members become co-presidents. Monthly meetings and two banquets are on the regular agenda of the society.

Hanover's science department is somewhat unique in that three of its eight members have been on the staff for over 20 years. Prof. Ned Guthrie completed 25 years of service this year and was thus honored by the Board of Trustees at the annual trustee-faculty luncheon in Men's Residence Hall on June 9.

The college continues to provide exceptional classroom and laboratory equipment for the several science departments all of which are housed in Goodrich Hall, named in honor of the president-emeritus of the Board of Trustees, P. E. Goodrich.

Hanover College was host to the fall meeting of the Indiana Academy of Science and the Indiana Junior Academy of Science early in November. Prof. R. Earl Martin was in charge of local arrangements. Over 500 scientists attended the meetings. It was the first time that the academy has met on the Hanover campus.

At its annual meeting at DePauw University late in March the Association of Geology Teachers selected Prof. Grant T. Wickwire as its president. The association is national in scope.

The chemistry department continues to keep in close contact with its alumni through the efforts of Prof. Guthrie. Questionnaires and news letters reveal that chemistry majors have made a name for themselves both in education and business.

In order to be eligible for the Science Club, a student must have a major, or minor, or ten hours of B in Science. Members present lectures and lead discussions on various phases of science that interest them, and often the lectures are accompanied by demonstrations. Programs include chemistry, geology, zoology, mathematics, botany and physics, and students meeting the requirements are accepted from any of these fields of science. This year's president was William Hill.

Delta Epsilon

A national scientific honorary, Delta Epsilon recognizes students who have done outstanding work in the various phases of science. Foreign Languages

A Hanover student now may major in either Classical Languages and Literature or Modern Languages. The former, directed by Prof. Mars Westington, requires a total of 30 hours, the latter, 40 hours.

For two years Hanover has been offering to students full-time instruction in each of three modern languages: French, Spanish, and German.

This year the Indiana Chapter of the Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese met on the campus with Prof. Emma May Hill in charge of arrangements. Last year high school and college Latin instructors met at Hanover.

Prof. Jean Anderson, who has taught at Hanover for over 25 years, is the senior member of the department. Prof. Hill will take a leave-of-absence during the 1951-52 academic year for graduate study at the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Westington was elected secretary-treasurer of the Indiana College Classical Teachers Assn.

The Pan-Linguist Club, sponsored by the department, has been under the leadership of Mrs. Carol Friedersdorf. During the holiday season Gerdi Rabe sang carols in German and directed the sending of clothing to the SCA group in Wiesbaden, Germany. On Feb. 23 the movie "Don Quixote" was sponsored by the group.

Religion and Philosophy

With the sudden passing of Dr. Charles B. Swartz, head of the department of religion and philosophy, Hanover College suffered a loss that cannot be repaired. Prof. Swartz came to Hanover College in 1945 after a successful career as a pastor of Presbyterian churches in Illinois and Indiana. He was a member of the Indiana Synod Council and active on several administrative committees of the college. For several semesters he was in charge of the college convocation programs.

Until the coming of Dr. Alvin K. Bailey in 1946, Dr. Swartz taught all courses in religion and philosophy. Two years ago a third member of the department was added, Prof. Herbert Thomson.

Annually the department is responsible together with the Student Christian Association for Religious Emphasis Week. This year the visiting speaker and counsellor was Dr. Howard W. Stone, pastor of the Irvington Presbyterian Church of Indianapolis. Dr. Stone proved to be a popular speaker and skil'ful group leader. All fraternities and sororities held special discussions during the week.

All members of the department are ordained ministers having seminary training from Union, Princeton, and McCormick. Prof. Bailey's doctor of philosophy degree is from Yale.

Business Administration and Economics

Ronald L. Austin

Asso. Prof. of Business Administration

B. S., Carnegie Tech.
M. Ed., U. of Pittsburgh

The coming of GI's to the campus in 1945-46 marked the sudden growth of the enrolment in the business and economics departments of the college. Prof. Ronald Austin came in 1945 to replace Prof. Steiner. He was followed two years later by Prof. Arthur Porter and last year by Prof. Howard Binkley. A student may now major in either business administration or economics.

Two courses in skills have been added to the business administration curriculum within the last several years: typewriting and office practice. Twelve courses are offered in economics, most of them on the alternate year plan.

Several fields trips have been taken during the year. One was made to the Arvin Manufacturing Co., of Columbus, Ind. The class in labor problems was fortunate enough to be permitted to witness a bargaining session between management and union members of the Louisville and Nashville railroad in Louisville.

Through his contacts with Indiana University School of Business Prof. Austin has been able to bring to the campus at various times throughout the year members of its faculty for convocation programs and special talks before business classes.

Social Sciences

The 40 hour social science major was the most popular choice of the Class of 1951 with 26 of its members selecting it for concentration. In addition 7 majored in sociology, 4 in psychology, 3 in history, and 1 in political science.

The Indiana Beta chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity, was revived several years ago under the leadership of Dr. Stone who has been serving as its president. Dr. Stone was also honored last autumn by being named vice-president of the Indiana Academy of Social Sciences which will hold its 1951 meeting on the Hanover campus. Dr. Stone also appeared on a television program in Cincinnati where he was given an Award of Merit by the Freedom Foundation.

Prof. Robert Bowers and Prof. Leonard Kramer have been active in setting up programs on history and political science to be presented over the Madison FM radio station of which Prof. Max Poland is program director.

Public Affairs Forum

The Public Affairs Forum, sponsored by Dr. Leonard Kramer, brings to the campus lectures of national importance in the belief that every student should know about and be interested in events and ideas of world wide import. In the annual spring Institute this year, Mrs. Hope Nevitt and William Hessler were speakers and participated in the panel discussions as well. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Magidoff were here in February. Al Speck led the steering committee.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club is a recently created organization formed last year by merging two established clubs, Business and Social Service, into one. The purpose of the club is to apply the social sciences to every day living, and the advisors are Professors Austin, Eisan and Stone who represent the several fields that were combined to form the club. Journalism

Hanover's offerings in the field of journalism have now expanded to seven courses directly in the field and three related ones in English and political science. The introductory course is offered annually with the others coming on alternate years.

Although it exercises no direct control over the school's newspaper and yearbook, most of the staff members of both publications have had journalism courses.

Students in the department made their annual trip to tour the plant of the Courier-Journal and Times in Louisville and the studios of WHAS and WHAS-TV during November.

Prof. Frank Baker, chairman of the faculty committee on student publications, is adviser to the Revonah staff. Miss Mary Louise Fitton and Mr. Baker advise the Triangle staff.

Revonah

It's hard work, pulling together all the many events, people, ideas and things that go into the makeup of Hanover College. We sort, retake, rewrite, eliminate, add and worry, but there isn't a member of the staff that didn't think it was fun...getting out the '51 Revonah.

Credit must go not only to the staff listed in the front of the yearbook but to the many people behind the scenes who are unnamed, but without whose work the book would never have been published, and to Mr. Baker, our hardworking and indispensable supervisor who remained calm in spite of it all!

Triangle

Hanover's weekly paper made progress this year as the Associated Collegiate Press returned a First Class Honor Rating for the first semester of the school year. It wasn't done without hard work, for underclassmen assumed the positions left open by graduated journalists. More freshmen than ever before joined the staff this year.

Honors were awarded to Dick Park, who received the upperclassman Editor's Award, and to Chuck Lipp who won the Freshman Journalism Award for outstanding work.

Major staff positions for the year were W. Jones, editor, D. Hacker and E. Swearingen, assistant editors, and W. Clapp, business manager.

Hill Thoughts

Under the guidance of faculty advisors Mr. Fox and Miss Fitton, the staff of Hill Thoughts had as its function the selection of material and format of the literary magazine, Hill Thoughts. From student contributions the staff read and reread, voted and then by process of elimination chose the articles, stories, poems and art work that appeared in the 1951 edition.

Alpha Phi Gamma

Members of Rho of Alpha Phi Gamma, national co-educational journalistic fraternity, have been active in the production of all Hanover publications. In addition, the group published its annual edition of the Triangle. Fourteen new initiates were added to the chapter rolls this year in two initiation ceremonies. Woody Jones was president, and Miss Fitton the faculty advisor.

English

Although only one faculty member, Dr. Leland Miles, devotes all his time to instruction in English, the department is actually one of the largest in the college. Instructors, in addition to Prof. Miles, the chairman, include Profs. Westington, Bucks, and Baker, Miss Fitton, Charles Fox, Miss Margaret Davis, and Mrs. Grant Wickwire.

The freshman composition work, directed by Prof. Baker, has been taught during the past year by five members of the staff. An outgrowth of the second-semester unit on the research paper has been the publication of the guide for such work by Profs. Miles and Baker.

Literature courses have been expanded to include all the major areas and periods. Courses added recently include Modern American Literature and Literature of the English Renaissance.

During the past year Dr. Miles served as secretary of the Indiana College English Association which held its annual meeting at Anderson College last May. The association will meet on the Hanover campus in 1952.

A successful experiment in the field of crossing departmental lines is the course in Great Books taught during the past year by Profs. Thomson, Swartz, and Yarnelle.

Speech, Dramatics

Continued emphasis in the field of dramatics characterized work of the speech department during the past year. Prof. James Dunlap completed two years of service to the college while Prof. Don Watters was taking graduated work at Ohio State University. Assisting Prof. Dunlap were Mr. Fox and Miss Davis.

The department had at its disposal the excellent facilities of the stage, workshop and dressing rooms in the college auditorium. Opportunities for practical experience in dramatics were possible in the offerings of the Hanover College Theater and the Hanover Players. Prof. Dunlap directed both groups.

Hanover Players

The Hanover Theatre and Players, directed by Professor James Dunlap, have given the Hanover audience a wide variety of dramatic productions this year. Liliom and Pygmalion were followed by three one act plays, The Boor, Shall We Join the Ladies?, and Mooney's Kid Don't Cry, which were taken on tour to other cities. The season closed with Family Portrait. Carl Johnson served as president of the group which consist of actors and stage hands.

Theta Alpha Phi

First established on this campus a year ago, the national dramatic honorary, Theta Alpha Phi has gained new members from the Hanover Players who have met the requirements of outstanding theatre work. Members are chosen from the actors and the behind-the-scenes stage hands who take care of the props, the sets, the lighting, and the business, and who are equally as important in the successful production of a play, if not as well known, as the actors.

Art and Music

With the addition of Miss Esther Black as art instructor, Hanover College is now able to offer both theoretical and laboratory courses in this field. Classes are held in the large art room at the west end of the third floor of Classic Hall.

The music department, directed by Prof. Maxwell Poland, now provides fulltime instruction in three areas: instruments by Prof. Poland, piano and organ by Dr. Ruth Graham, and voice by Prof. Frank Blanning. Dr. Graham returned to the faculty after two years at Union Theological School of Sacred Music.

Although not sponsored directly by the department, the Music Appreciation Club again brought to the campus, an Artist Series with Robert Long, Winifred Merrill, and the Louisville Orchestra as offerings.

Profs. Graham and Blanning were two of the seven judges for the regional solo and group contests sponsored by the Indiana School Music Assn. Over 500 high school students were on the campus on Feb. 10 for these contests.

Regular recital programs were open to the public. The department also administered the Seashore Musical Aptitude Test to all interested people.

Membership in the Hanover College Band is open to all students interested in band work. With its new uniforms, large membership and repertoire of all types of band music the band is one of the major musical organizations of the campus. Under the direction of Max Poland, the band plays at all of the home football and basketball games, and has a band concert in chapel each semester.

The Hanover College Choir is a vested choir of mixed voices whose membership is determined on a competitive basis. The choir, directed by Dr. Ruth Graham, sings at the Hanover Presbyterian Church each Sunday and gives several public concerts throughout the year. This year the choir sang over a coast-to-coast CBS broadcast originating in Cincinnati, and appeared over TV as well.

Membership in the Men's Glee Club is limited to 35 men, who are chosen on a try-out basis. Under the direction of Mr. Frank Blanning, the Glee Club this year toured Michigan and Indiana giving requested concerts ranging from sea chanties to sacred music. Through the year the Glee Club entertains the College and Hanover communities with public concerts.

In addition to several regular programs, the Hanover College Chorus, directed by Prof. Frank Blanning, combines with the Choir each year to present an oratorio. The chorus is open to all students who like to sing and have an interest in good music. This year the group of 70 members appeared as guests on a Louisville television program, and did a selection of popular and semi-classical music.

Physical Education

With the selection of Charles Henry as assistant director of physical education for men the Hanover physical education department has had the largest staff in its history. Directed by Prof. Raymond Struck the department offered a full course leading to secondary school teachers licenses.

Miss Mary Price and Mrs. Daily Hill joined the staff last September after the resignation of Misses Wilma Miller and Gertrude Verstegen. Prof. Garland Frazier, who came to Hanover in 1949, will be athletic director at Wabash College next year.

Most of the classes offered by the department have been taught in the wrestling-boxing room of Lynn Hall during the past year. Offices of the women's physical education department, formerly in College Point House, have been moved to Wood's Field House. Classes are held in both buildings.

The department is responsible for sponsoring a full program of men's and women's intramural competitions as well as extensive programs of intercollegiate sports, both major and minor. Full account of these activities are contained in the athletic section of the 1951 REVONAH.

Education

For over twenty years Dr. Russell Kutz has supervised the offerings of Hanover College in the field of education. Since the state department of education ceased granting two year certificates for elementary teaching, Hanover has offered training only for prospective secondary school teachers. However, starting in September, 1951, the college plans to give training again in the elementary field.

Practice teaching is done in the Hanover and Madison High School's. The college offers work leading to licenses in 9 comprehensive areas and 20 restricted or conditional areas.

ATHLETICS...

FROM CAMPUS TO CAMPUS . . .

The athletics at Hanover College are an important part of the college life for all students. To those who were on the varsity football, basketball, baseball, golf, tennis, and track teams, athletics meant achieving a high degree of skill and participating in keen competition. To the spectators, athletics meant excitement and a high degree of school spirit and loyalty.

While the most stress is on varsity sports, intramural competitions rate high in interest, and each group strives for recognition in the many intramural sports.

Although we didn't win the Hoosier Conference All-Sports trophy this year, the students, whether participating on teams or cheering for them, know that athletics are an important and healthy part of college life.

After completely dominating Hoosier Conference athletic activity for three consecutive years, Hanover finally was deposed as All-Sports champion. Indiana Central, who finished fifth in the big race last year, rose from that lowly position to become the only other HCC school to display the massive trophy, symbolic of HCC sports supremacy, with 92½ points to Hanover's 86½.

In his second, and concluding year at Hanover, Garland Frazier coached the football team to a tie with Taylor for third place in the HCC. The Red and Blue gridiron machine was unable to duplicate last year's brilliant record and had to be content with three victories, five defeats and one tie.

R. F. "Dutch" Struck led the Hanover cross-country team to a season's record of four wins and two defeats. In the Conference meet, the best the Panthers could finish was fifth. Tom Foreman captained the harrier squad.

Newcomer Charlie Henry took over the coaching reins of the basketball team from Garland Frazier and led the courtmen to fifth place in the Hoosier Conference. Sorely missed was the point-making ability of Andy Taff. The highest individual effort of the season was Gus Moorhead's twenty-five tallies against Franklin.

Barney Scott captained the hardwood crew for the second successive year. Highlights of the year were the 106-76 conquest of Canterbury and the nineteen game home winning streak. The winning streak begun in 1949 was finally ended this year as the Hilltoppers tasted defeat at the hands of DePauw 75-71 in a torrid overtime contest.

The Red and Blue quintet finished the season with a 12-10 record that included seven Conference wins against five losses.

The track team, under the guidance of Garland Frazier, compiled a credible season's record that included two victories in triangular meets, a pair of losses in two dual meets, and a second in the Rose Relays. The Panthers cinder and sod men were expected to give Indiana Central and Franklin a battle for the crown in the Conference meet. On the big day, however, the Hanover men faltered and wound up in fifth place.

Highlights of the season were Bob Shelburne's showings in the dashes. The flying Hilltopper copped first places in the 100 and 220 yard sprints consistently, won the Little State 220 crown and placed second in the century. In post-season competition Shelburne won these two events in the state A. A. U. meet and was one of six qualifiers in the Central A. A. U. meet at Milwaukee.

The diamond squad captured one of the two Hanover sports crowns by fashioning six successive Conference victories to close the season. Leo Kelly returned to the line-up at mid-season after being sidelined by an injured arm to lead the Panthers in hitting. Although this title failed to give Hanover the All-Sports trophy, Panther rooters may well be proud of the baseball squad and Coach Charlie Henry for their brilliant stretch playing.

The Hilltopper diamond nine gained the title on the strength of eight victories and only three defeats. In all competition, the Panthers split even, winning nine and losing an equal number.

Coach Vladimir Dupre tutored the golf team to their second consecutive HCC title. The Panther linksmen were undefeated in loop competition and wound up the season with an over-all 7-3-1 record. DePauw matched Hanover stroke to gain the only tie.

After sweeping aside all HCC competition last year, the Hanover tennis team under the tutelage of coach Erle Huse faltered once this year which allowed Manchester to wrest the title from the Panthers. The netmen lost only one match in Conference play while winning five. They compiled an over-all record of six victories against four defeats.

Highlight of the year was the appearance on the home courts of Tony Trabert, brilliant young University of Cincinnati star. Trabert treated local spectators to top-flight tennis in easily winning his match from Dave Hacker.

The mid-century model of Hanover's gridiron machine started and ended the season in low gear. Minus such stars as Jim "Swede" Peterson, Bill K'lein and Hank Treesh, the 1950 Panthers were only able to grind their way to three victories and one tie as against five defeats.

In Conference play the Panthers wound up in a tie with Taylor for third place. Canterbury was heir apparent to Hanover's Conference crown after the Knights squeezed out a 21-20 victory over the Panthers. They finished the season with an undefeated record to lay final claim to the crown. The top spot gained by the Purple and White was well deserved as they finished the 1950 gridiron wars as one of only twenty-six colleges in the nation with a perfect record. Fleet Bob Courtney, signed by the Chicago Bears to play professional football, sparked the tiny twenty-eight man team.

Jack Johns, Captain

Tom Houser, Most Valuable

In spite of the poor win-loss record, however, the season's gridiron play revealed a number of promising players. Dick Casten brilliantly filled the slot left vacant by George Thurston and Howard "Tuffy" Conrad. The pile-driving freshman fullback was the bone of the offensive backfield as he repeatedly crashed through the line for long gains. Casten also scored six touchdowns.

Alternating with Casten at the power position, Leo Kelly also indicated his ability by cracking the opponents' forward wall time after time. In addition, Kelly, a converted guard, had the distinction of being one of the few old fashioned sixty-minute men on the squad. The Aurora star was the mainstay of the defensive platoon. From his line-backer spot, Kelly saved several games by hauling down goal-bound opponents.

Bozo Thompson, Skip Klingensmith and Jerry Klaybor also performed brilliantly on occasions to add lustre to a rather dim season.

The first game, with newcomer Southern Illinois, accurately forecast Red and Blue football fortunes. The Illinois eleven nipped the local team 13-7.

The game was tied 7 all until the final ten seconds when the SIU men uncorked a desperation play that covered eighty-five yards in the air and on the ground for the winning tal'y. Hanover, however, sparked by quarterback Gary Fox, Leo Kelly and Tom Houser, topped their opponent in all statistical departments.

On September 30 the Panthers clashed with their "city cousins," DePauw. Apparently taking a cue from Hanover's defeat the week before, the Tigers edged the Red and Blue by one point, 14-13.

Injuries to three regular starters hampered efforts to repeat 1949's stunning 27-7 victory over the Greencastle eleven. Dick Casten, freshman stalwart, however, proved his worth as he bucked over for both Hanover touchdowns.

Hanover Scores First

Hanover drew first blood early in the initial quarter only to be matched minutes later when Dailey, DePauw halfback gathered in the kickoff and galloped eighty-three yards for the score.

In the third period DePauw broke the tie with a short pass across the goal line. The initial try for the all important extra point was no good but a Panther was detected off-side. On the replay the ball split the uprights.

This Red and Blue mistake cost the Panthers at least a tie, for they struck pay dirt late in the final stanza. A fumbled pass from center, however, gave the Tigers a close but clear-cut victory.

The Panthers finally broke into the victory column on Dad's Day as they downed Indiana Central 6-0.

The Hilltoppers dominated play throughout the contest, but neither team got inside of their opponent's ten yard line more than once.

A scoring drive in the last minute of play netted the victory for the Panthers. Taking over at mid field, they moved the ball to the Central two yard line via two running plays and two passes from Fox to Houser. Freshmen fullback Dick Casten plunged over the line with the winning touchdown. Guy Andress's pass for the extra point was knocked down.

The Canterbury Knights edged the Panthers 21-20 in a rough and ready grid contest at Danville. Hanover fumbled away several scoring opportunities during the night in giving the Knights a close battle.

Sparked by Bob Courtney's ninety-two yard punt return and fifty yard gallop from scrimmage, the Knights rolled to a 14-0 first quarter lead.

The Panthers struck back hard in the second period as they netted two touchdowns. Dick Casten capped a sixty-two yard drive with a two yard plunge for the first counter. The second occurred when a Canterbury punt was blocked on their own sixteen yard line. Don Mobley retrieved the ball and romped across the goal line. Guy Andress converted once in the two attempts.

Casten powers way for big gain

The Knights fought to a commanding third quarter lead when George Barlow scored on a quarterback sneak. The conversion was good. Casten's ten yard plunge and Andress's conversion ended the game 21-20 for the Knights.

Playing before four thousand Homecoming spectators, the Panthers overwhelmed the Manchester Spartans 34-13. After battling to a 13-13 half time tie, the Hilltoppers exploded for a twenty-one point fourth period.

Spartans Score

Manchester scored first, climaxing a fifty yard drive with Jim Minnear's one yard plunge. Tod Kelly scored first for the local team as he stole the ball and raced fifty-seven yards for the score. Andress converted and it was 7 all.

Bud Olinger went sixteen yards for the Spartans, but Dick Casten scored from the three yard line to end the half at a deadlock.

After a scoreless third period, the Panthers broke loose in the final period. Leo Kelly plowed over from the one for the third touchdown. Gary Fox uncorked a forty-one yard pass to Ben Wernz for the next Panther tally. Bozo Thompson ended the scoring parade by intercepting a mid-field pass and sprinting over the goal line. Guy Andress converted after each touchdown.

The Panthers dropped their fourth game of the season by falling to Centre's undefeated Colonels 24-14.

Centre drew first blood in the initial period never to be headed. The Colonels drove to the Hanover nine and Frank Cain booted a field goal for the first score. Centre hit paydirt again on the last play of the first half on a long forty yard pass.

Bozo Thompson set up the first Panther score as he intercepted a Centre pass at mid-field. Gary Fox passed to Ben Wernz for forty yards and then tossed to Dick Casten for the counter. Guy Andress converted and Hanover trailed 10-7.

The Colonels added two quick touchdowns in the final period on a twelve yard run and a one yard plunge. The final Panther tally came on Gary Fox's pass to Skip Klingensmith in the end zone. Andress converted and the game ended two plays later.

Kamradt, Kelly, Kelly, Klaybor, Klingensmith, Koehler, Lynch, McGregor, Merchant.

An inspired Panther eleven rolled over Franklin's Grizzlies 40-7 in the annual Victory Bell battle. Tom Houser, elected most valuable player by his team mates, took over the signal calling chores for the first time to lead Hanover to the coveted victory.

The Hilltoppers took the ball on the kickoff and marched seventy-five yards for a touchdown. Leo Kelly capped the drive with a thirty-five yard run for the score. Guy Andress converted and the Panthers led 7-0. Gary Fox passed to Ben Wernz for eight yards and pay dirt for the period's second score.

Hanover ran the score to 26-0 at halftime with Tom Houser's six yard run and Guy Andress's nineteen yard run on a pass interception.

Franklin scored its lone tally as Don Gines ran the second half kickoff ninety yards to pay dirt. The Grizzly conversion was good.

The final period was completely controlled by the Hilltoppers. Guy Andress passed to Skip Klingensmith for a touchdown and Gary Fox tossed to Klingensmith for the extra point. The last Panthers score came as Dick Hendricks plunged over from the one yard line and Andress booted the extra point.

The Cavemen of Wabash came to Hanover eight point favorites, but the Panthers fought them on even terms and gained a 13-13 tie.

Hanover's offense, led by Leo Kelly and Jerry Klaybor, rolled up a 13-0 lead in the first half. Kelly scored first on a two yard plunge and a twenty-nine yard romp by Klaybor netted the second touchdown.

Mobley, Osborne, Pack, Rogers, Shadday, Speak, Wernz, Wheeler, Williams.

Two costly fumbles by the Panthers in the second half allowed the Cavemen to gain the tie. A Hanover fumble on the Wabash nine yard line led to the Cavemen's first touchdown. Another fumble, this time on the Hanover one yard line, practically gave the Cavemen their second counter. The Wabash one yard plunge ended the game in the deadlock.

One big quarter was enough to spoil the last game of the 1950 season. The Anderson Ravens exploded for a four touchdown third quarter to down the Panthers 34-7.

The first half ended in a 7-7 deadlock. The Ravens scored first on a twenty-three yard run, but Skip Klingensmith retaliated for the Panthers by scoring on a pass from Gary Fox.

Jim Macholtz proved to be too much for the Panthers as he figured in all four third period touchdowns. He ran for the first two, then passed for another, and ended the scoring by going thirty-five yards for the fourth touchdown.

The 1950-51 year saw the addition of another sport to the athletic scene. An interested group of men banded together and, under the tutelage of "Beno" Goodman, Madison, extended Hanover colors to the wrestling world.

Highlight of the unofficial season was a trip East underwritten by the team members. The journey was a resounding success. The matmen whipped Caldulet College of Maryland and gave the University of Maryland a close match before losing.

Keith Main brought state recognition to the infant sport when he captured a second place in the Indiana A. A. U. meet at Indianapolis. Main fought his way to the runner-up spot in his weight division against such competition as provided by Indiana University, Purdue, Ohio State and others.

Team members Keith Main, Jack Haines, Bob Boston, Pete Sexton, Rush Titus, Ted Hurd, Jake Guinn, Jack Haig, Dick Hendricks and Al Kamradt also put on several exhibitions before home basketball games.

Although no letters were awarded, after such a successful first year, the wrestling team is expected to carry the proud Red and Blue tradition of might to still greater heights.

Although the 1950 harrier squad placed only fifth in the Conference meet, the team won four out of six dual meets during the season. The cross-country men started out fast, winning their first four meets. These four wins coupled with the loss to Indiana Central gave the harriers a very credible 4-1 record for the Conference year.

Tom Foreman, captain, paced the team as he broke the tape three times during the season. The performance of Rush Titus, John Hawley and Russell Busse added needed balance to the team. This trio consistently finished close on the heels of the winner to add valuable points.

The Hanover basketball team, under the guidance of newcomer Charlie Henry, experienced a moderately successful season. The scoring punch provided by Andy Taff was sorely missed. The Panthers wound up fourth in the Hoosier Conference and compiled a 12-10 all-game record.

Highlight of the year was the new Lynn Hall scoring record. On January 13th a red hot Hilltopper team burned the nets to defeat Canterbury 106-76. Another mark was also written into the books when the hardwood five compiled a nineteen game home winning streak. The string of victories began in 1949 with a victory over Manchester. The skein was finally snapped this year when a strong DePauw team edged past the Panthers 75-71 in a thrilling overtime battle.

Lloyd "Barney" Scott, captain of the quintet for the second straight year, led the team in scoring with a 12.8 average for the twenty-two contests. Scott was also named most valuable player by his teammates. William "Gus" Moorhead was accorded state recognition for his fine play by being selected to participate in the annual All-Star game. The charity contest pitted outstanding Indiana college players against the professional Indianapolis Olympians. This was the second consecutive year that a Panther was given this honor. Last year Andy Taff carried the Red and Blue colors.

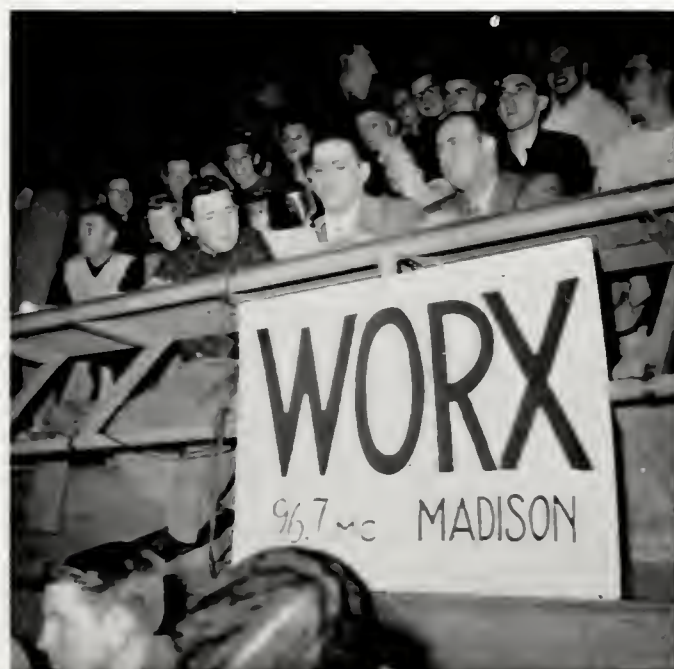

Lloyd Scott, Captain and Most Valuable

The season began on November 29 when the team met Indiana State, N. A. I. B. Champions at Terre Haute. The Panthers played the highly rated Sycamore five on even terms for the first half, but eventually fell 58-46. Barney Scott and Eddie Orrill led the Hanover offense with 13 and 10 points respectively.

The Hilltoppers fought to a 64-58 victory over Ball State in their first home contest. The Panthers took an early lead but yielded the advantage to Ball State late in the second period. At half-time the Cardinals enjoyed a 10 point margin. The Panthers came back fast in the second half to completely dominate play and cop the victory. Ed Orrill netted 13 points to lead his team mates to the win with John Collier potting 12.

Hanover met its first Conference foe in the battle with Taylor. The Trojans handed the local men a 86-67 beating. Shooting at a sizzling 40 per cent clip, Taylor opened the scoring and was never denied the lead. The combination of Ross, Bragg and Wilhelm proved too much for the Panthers. Barney Scott with 16 points and Ed Orrill with 11 were the big guns in the Hanover attack.

Xavier Crushes Panthers

The big crew of Xavier University again dealt the Panthers a punishing blow as they whipped the local quintet 78-47. The speedy Musketeers held a 37-21 half-time lead and coasted through the second half in gaining the victory. Scott repeated as the Hanover scoring ace with 12 tallies.

The Hilltoppers downed Indiana Central 64-60 on the home court for their first Conference victory. The Hanover five jumped to an early 10-2 lead, but the Greyhounds fought back to hold a 31-28 half-time advantage.

The second period was nip and tuck with Hanover gaining a 61-60 lead with two minutes to play. Orrill's lay up and free toss put the game on ice for the Hilltoppers. Scott racked up 16 Panther points.

The Hanover quintet travelled to Anderson and handed the Ravens a 66-57 defeat. The Panther crew was held to a slim 33-32 mid-point lead but managed to pull away in the final minutes of play.

Gus Moorhead's sharp shooting netted him 18 points and high scoring honors for the Panthers.

The next hardwood outing saw the Panthers thump Manchester 82-56 on the home floor. The local crew took an early lead largely through the efforts of "Easy" Ed Orrill and were never headed. Orrill and Rawlings shared pointmaking honors with 11 apiece.

Hanover played two non-conference foes before the Christmas vacation to close out 1950 play. The Henry-men walloped Wabash 96-66 but absorbed a 67-52 lacing at the hands of DePauw.

The Hurryin' Hilltoppers sent the Little Giants scurrying back to their caves on the strength of a furious fast breaking offense. Ed Orrill led Hanover sharpshooters with 16 points.

Up to the first half of the DePauw game it looked like the Panthers would take the measure of the Tigers. At the end of the second period the local men held a four point lead. During the second half, however, the superior height and strength of the Greenscastle team wore the Panthers down. Scott racked up 13 markers for the losers.

The point hungry Panthers established the new Lynn Hall record in their 106-75 conquest of Canterbury. Joe Rawlings sparked the defense and counted 22 points to win individual scoring honors.

Indiana Central gained revenge for an earlier set back by Hanover when they nipped the Panthers 62-61 at Southport. Although Dwight Swails, Indiana college scoring leader for 1950-51, was held to 11 points, the Hilltoppers were unable to overcome the well balanced Greyhound attack. Green and Geissler together potted 18 points.

A surprisingly strong Chase College quintet battled Hanover on even terms before bowing in the closing seconds 87-86. Joe Rawlings tossed in two charity throws to give the Panthers the victory. Scott paced the winners with 13 points.

Franklin Downed

In their next roundball tilt, the Panthers nudged Franklin 62-60. Collier starred for the winners when he stole the ball with less than 20 seconds to go, dribbled the length of the floor and dumped in the winning tally. The Panthers overcame a 12 point half-time deficit in gaining the victory.

A determined crew of Cavemen from Wabash were the Hilltoppers third victim in a row. The Panthers whipped the Crawfordsville quintet 79-62. The Cavemen held Hanover to a four point lead at half-time. The winners, however, paced by Scott's 18 points, broke away in the second half to easily win the tilt.

Earlham was the next foe to feel the mighty Panther claw. In a loose and ragged home contest, the Quakers fell to the host quintet 79-62. Hanover held a three point mid-point lead but caught fire in the second half to win going away. The Henrymen hit 21 of 43 shots in the second stanza.

In spite of Gus Moorhead's 25 points, Hanover was unable to repeat their earlier win over Franklin and suffered a 73-64 defeat at the hands of the Grizzlies in an outing at Franklin. The score was tied at 54 with but four minutes left. At this point Ferguson poured three quick shots through the basket to give the Grizzlies a decisive lead.

Although they didn't know it, the Panther's home victory streak of 19 ended with the 71-67 defeat of Anderson. The game was nip and tuck all the way with Hanover counting the victory in the final minutes on a basket by Ray Green. The 16 points rung up by Scott gave the Panther captain scoring honors for the evening.

After absorbing the earlier shellacking at Hanover, Canterbury roared back to upset the Panthers 63-58. A lacklustre Panther quintet, unable to catch fire, suffered the defeat in a game played at Danville.

Saturday, February 15, was the fateful day when Hanover went down to defeat on the home court for the first time in two years. DePauw was the conquerer by a 75-71 score.

The contest, one of the best played all season, was in doubt from the first jump to the final gun. Neither team enjoyed more than a six point lead at any time. The regulation period ended with the score knotted at 69 apiece. In overtime play DePauw netted two quick buckets to cinch the victory. Moorhead tallied 16 points for the losers.

The Panthers concluded Conference play by falling to an inspired Earlham five 53-52. After experiencing a frigid first half, Hanover began hitting in the final stages but were unable to make up the 11 point half-time Quaker margin. The loss gave Hanover a 7-5 Hoosier conference record.

In their concluding appearance at Lynn Hall, the Panthers mauled Centre 94-51. A tired and dispirited Prayin' Colonel quintet offered only token resistance as the local crew scored almost at will. At half-time, Hanover enjoyed a 49-20 lead. Scott and Rawlings led the tally parade with 18 apiece. Geissler dumped in 17 for runner-up honors.

Villa Madonna provided the final competition of the season for the Hurryin' Hill-toppers. Hanover travelled to the Kentucky school and closed the season with a 64-62 win. The contest was close until with seven minutes remaining. Scott and Moorhead shared scoring honors with 16 Moorhead popped in four fast buckets points apiece.

1951 proved to be a disappointing year for Hanover's followers of the cinder and sod sport. The Panthers made a strong bid for honors early in the season but faltered in the stretch to take a disastrous fifth in the HCC Meet.

Two triangular meet victories over highly-regarded conference foes during the regular season and an excellent showing in the Rose Relays led Panther supporters to believe that another conference championship might come to the Hanover trackmen, but an unexplainable loss of Panther pointgetters in the big meet doused the local hopes.

The season opened with a disheartening one-point loss to Franklin. This contest was decided on the final leap of the broad jump, which was the final event. Bob Shelburne copped both dashes, Frank Fisher won the half-mile, Ray Green took the shot put, Bob Wood and Bill Litchfield tied for first in the pole vault and the mile relay squad of Dick Casten, "Skip" Klingensmith, Fisher, and Allen Allie carried the baton for a victory.

The next week saw the local harriers avenge this defeat with a triangular meet triumph over Franklin and Anderson at Anderson. Phil Grush took over for the injured Shelburne and won both the century and fur long sprints. Fisher again took the 280, Woods topped the pole vaulters, and the mile relay repeated its previous performance.

The fine showing turned in by the Hilltoppers at the Rose Relays was overshadowed by the one-point loss to Indiana Central. The Panther 440 relay quartet established a new Relays mark of 47 seconds to lead the Hanover contingent. Other firsts were acquired in the 880 relay, the two mile relay and the shotputters relay.

Records Smashed

Kentucky State, the principal negro school of the Bluegrass State, proved to have too much talent for the HCC schools when it soundly trounced Earlham and the Red and Blue in a record-breaking contest. Six Morgan Field records were smashed, five by the southerners and one by a Hanover man, during the contest. Bob Shelburne's 59.8 effort in the century gave him both the school and field records in that event. Tom Foreman and Bob Woods were the only other first place winners for the locals in the two-mile and pole vault, respectively. The other records broken were in the 220-21.8, the 880-2:04.9, the mile-4:45.9, the shot put-53'6 1/2", and the broad jump-23'9 1/2".

The next week saw the Panthers win a triangular meet with Indiana Central and Canterbury and lose to a highly talented University of Louisville squad.

The one-point victory in the triangular meet repaid the Greyhounds for the Hilltopper loss in the Rose Relays. Bob Shelburne and Ray Green each annexed two titles in this contest, the former taking the dashes and the latter copping the shot and javelin. Tom Foreman also garnered a blue ribbon with a 10:35.5 two-mile. Shelburne repeated his sweep in the U. of L. meet and Ed Orrill took the broad jump with a 20'6" leap. Dave Jones of Indiana Central broke the week-old field record in the half-mile with a 2:02.9 performance in the triangular contest.

Indiana Central's power and team depth completely dominated the Fourth Hoosier Conference Track and Field Meet held at Morgan Field. This contest and previously been held at Terre Haute, but Rose Poly's withdrawal for the conference forced the schools to agree on another site.

Hanover Favorites

IC, Franklin, and Hanover were pre-meet favorites on the basis of their season performances with Anderson accorded an outside chance mainly because of Russ Smith, sophomore who compiled 15 1/2 points in the meet. Bob Courtney of Canterbury edged Bob Shelburne in both the 100 and 220 sprints to join Smith and Bill Mendenhall of Franklin in the select group of double winners. Ray Green was the only Panther to earn a blue ribbon in the day's activities. His 42'11" heave enable him to retain the shot put crown.

Panther point winners were: Shelburne, a second in the 100 and a third in the 220; Fisher, a fourth in the 880; Foreman, a fourth in the two-mile; Gus Moorhead, a second in the low hurdles; Wood, a tie for fourth in the pole vault; Ken Pack, a fifth in the shot put; Green, a first in the shot and a fourth in the javelin; and the mile relay team, fifth place.

Bob Shelburne, ace Panther dashman and holder of the school records in both the 100 yard and furlong sprints, was one of the best of a good crop of HCC dashmen this year. During the season, Bob garnered 57 points to edge Captain Ray Green by six tallies for top scoring honors. These two were far ahead in the individual scoring race.

Hanover's participation in the Little State meet was particularly unprofitable except for the nine points accumulated by Shelburne. He won the 220 yard dash and was bare'y nosed out by Courtney in the century to account for all the Hanover points in this meet.

At the end of the season, Bob was voted "Most Valuable" by his teammates. His season record included eight firsts, three seconds and one third. His record-breaking :09.8 in the 100 and a good :22.3 in the 220 were his best efforts of the year. In a post-season CCC meet at Milwaukee, Bob was one of the six qualifiers in the 100 yard dash. This meet attracted some of the top talent of the nation.

Manchester handed the visiting Hanover diamond crew their first loop loss of 1951 with a 6-5 verdict. George Nelson started on the mound, and was holding the Spartans in check when he began to tire. Hosbach and Shields were wild in their relief work, allowing the hosts to overcome a three-run deficit and rack up their first league win. The Panthers' five singles were garnered by five different men.

Canterbury kept the Hilltoppers' hard-luck streak going with a 5-4 conquest at Morgan Field. Paul Shepherd pitched a steady game, but was plagued by sloppy defensive work on the part of his mates. In becoming the first Hanover hurler to go the route, "Shep" struck out four, gave up no walks and nine hits. Barney Scott collected two bingles to lead the Hanover crew.

The Panthers finally rid themselves of the "one-run jinx" by shutting out Taylor 1-0 behind the fine hurling of George Nelson. Wayne Frazee, sensational Taylor sophomore, was the victim of this performance. The Panthers' lone run was unearned. It came in the second inning on a walk, a stolen base, a wild pitch and Laswell's long fly. Frazee struck out fourteen, walked one and gave up three hits. Nelson chalked up eight strikeouts, allowed no walks and spaced four hits. Nelson also collected two singles with Barney Scott's leadoff single in the first inning completing the slugging roster.

A blazing finish that included six conference wins without a defeat enabled the 1951 Hanover diamond squad to capture the HCC baseball crown. Wallowing in the second division with a 2-3 record, the Hilltoppers suddenly came to life and finished the league without a loss. Three one-run defeats were all that marred the loop record of Coach Charles Henry's charges.

Non-conference foes fared far better than HCC rivals by dropping the Panther pastimers six times in seven contests. The University of Louisville and DePauw, perennial masters of Hanover on the diamond, both handed the locals double losses during the season. Hanover listed as double victims Franklin and Earlham.

George Nelson and Jack Hosbach combined to pitch the Panthers to an opening game victory over Earlham. All four of the visitors' runs were unearned as both pitchers throttled the Quaker bats effectively. Bud Wagner led the 13-hit Hanover attack with a triple and two singles. DePauw proved to have too much talent for the Panthers in the local club's second start of the season. Hosbach, Joe Shields and Nelson took their turn on the hill in that order, with Hosbach receiving the loss. Jack Laswell's two singles topped the Hilltoppers' batters.

Indiana Central handed the Hilltoppers their third one-run loss on a 4-3 count. Paul Shepherd was unable to shake off his hard-luck in dropping his second encounter while going the route. Ed Orrill was the leading batsman for the Panthers with two hits. Central garnered five hits off of Shepard while Gene Deitz allowed the visitors only four bingles.

University of Louisville powered through a two-game series with the Hanover batsmen with a total of 26 runs. The first game, played at Morgan Field, was interrupted by a windstorm in the fifth inning, but was completed after a half-hour break. Ken Keller made his first start and pitched good ball until the fifth, when the roof fell in to the tune of ten runs. Ed Orrill homered for the hosts. The second game was a replica of the first with George Nelson as the victim of this onslaught. The southerners collected 17 hits in the first game and 10 in the second.

Leo Kelly returned to action after being out with a dislocated shoulder and led the Panthers to a 8-4 conquest of Franklin. George Nelson was the starter for the visitors but needed relief in fifth. Jack Hosbach pitched the rest of the game and held the Grizzlies completely in check. Kelly collected three bingles, including a double in five trips to the plate to pace the Panther attack.

The Hilltoppers won their lone non-conference victory at the expense of Centre by a 10-5 margin. Paul Shepherd pitched his third complete game in as many tries and received his first win. The 11-hit Hanover attack was topped by Ed Oehlman's round-tripper with two men on base.

In a very ragged contest which saw 14 errors committed, the Panther pastimers kept their winning streak alive with an 8-6 victory over Indiana Central. Nelson started for the hosts but gave way to Jack Hosbach in the seventh. Both squads had eight hits, but the Greyhounds eight costly errors proved to be the difference. Leo Kelly's tripple and two singles paced the Panther attack.

The only extra-inning contest of the season was featured by six innings of slug-fest followed by a six inning pitchers duel. Paul Shepherd started for the locals and lasted until the sixth inning, when he was relieved by George Nelson. Nelson faced nineteen batters in a row without permitting a man to reach first base as he finished the game. The hosts jumped into a four run lead in the first inning on two singles and four errors. Anderson tied the count at 5-5 with a four run sixth inning. In the bottom of the twelfth, Leo Kelly's long single with men on first and third accounted for the win. Kelly also collected a triple to top the Hanover sluggers.

Centre Wins

Centre avenged an earlier defeat at the hands of the Panthers with a 7-2 lacing. Jack Hosbach started the contest and was relieved by Ken Keller in the sixth. Doubles by Captain Mace Garrison and Barney Scott and a triple by Leo Kelly accounted for the locals' runs.

An eight-run eighth inning gave the Hilltoppers their fourth straight Hoosier Conference victory as they pounded Earlham 14-5. Paul Shepherd toiled six and one-third innings but was removed in favor of Nelson in the seventh. Leo Kelly continued his torrid hitting pace with two hits in five trips.

Ed Oehlman and Coach Henry During a Practice Session.

DePauw continued their mastery over the Panthers with a 6-3 victory. Ken Keller started on the hill for the hosts, but gave way to Centerfielder Ed Orrill in the third after giving up four runs. Orrill held the Tigers in check the rest of the way, but his mates couldn't supply him with the necessary runs. Orrill and Kelly led the batters with a double and a single apiece.

The only shutout of the season was pasted on Hanover by the Chase College lawyers. Joe Shields and Jack Hosbach spaced 12 hits very well, but couldn't muster the runs. Leo Kelly's triple and single accounted for one-third of the visitors' hits.

Franklin became Hanover's fifth straight HCC victim by virtue of a 7-3 decision at Morgan Field. Ed Orrill went all the way for the Hilltoppers, giving up seven hits. He also collected a double and two singles to lead the Hanover batters.

The final game of the season saw the high-riding Panthers hand Canterbury a sound 12-1 lacing and clinch the HCC baseball crown. George Nelson's nifty two-hitter and Ed Orrill's grand-slam homer were the high points of the game. This marked the second time in four years, the Hilltoppers have taken this trophy.

Lettermen for the year include: Captain Mace Garrison, Bud Wagner, Leo Kelly, Jack Laswell, Ed Orrill, Jerry Klaybor, Chet Frakes, Barney Scott, Ed Oehlman, J. C. Lytle, Ken Keller, George Nelson, Jack Hosbach, Paul Shepherd, Joe Shields, Jim Fletcher, A. J. McKinley, Bill Hancock, Bob Longabaugh, Larry Gloyd, and Dick Abel.

Leo Kelly, star shortstop on Hanover's diamond squad, was one of the main reasons Hanover started winning in the middle of the season. Leo injured his shoulder in the Manchester game and missed the next six games in a row. Of those games, Hanover won only one. "Tiger" made his return in the first Franklin and led the Panther hitting attack. In each of the next ten games on the schedule, he managed to connect for at least one hit a game, and usually collected two or more. He finished the season with a .415 batting average which placed him 69 points above his nearest teammate and 192 points above the team average.

The fact that the team won seven of ten contests after his return, including all the loop games, had a great deal to do with the fact that he was named "Most Valuable" by his teammates at the close of the year.

For the second straight year, Hanover's contingent of linksmen swung their way through Hoosier Conference competition with an unblemished record. During the regular season play, four conference schools attempted to break the Hilltoppers' undefeated string, but only Franklin could come within driving distance of the Panther's well-balanced crew of club-swingers.

Non-conference schools supplied the local golfers with plenty of competition. In seven matches with non-conference foes, Coach Vladimir Dupre's charges were able to muster only two victories and one tie.

This year, for the first time, the Hoosier Conference, Central College Conference and Little State golf meets were run off simultaneously. As the result of the two-day tour of the Sarah Shank course in Indianapolis, the Panther quartet garnered a third place in the Little State rankings and copped the HCC crown with a total score of 626 strokes. This total was 44 strokes better than the nearest Conference competitor and but five strokes off the Little State best, posted by Valparaiso.

Captain John Smith was the most consistent in his play this year. His 154 stroke total in the Conference meet earned him medalist honors for the tourney. Mel Doup was a close second with a 155 total. Seven men alternated in their playing this year and all received letters. These men elected Bob Kirkpatrick as their captain for next year.

The 1951 version of the Hanover tennis team finished a moderately successful season with a 5-4 won-lost record. A 5-1 record in Conference play was enough to give the Panthers a second place in the loop standings while all non-conference contests were disastrous for coach Erle Huse's group of racquetmen. The Little State Meet found the Panther netmen in a sixth-place tie with Ball State.

Manchester, ultimate conference champion, caught the Panthers with their racquets down and handed them their first league loss since 1949. DePauw captured the Little State tourney, while Hanover edged Manchester as the top representative of the HCC.

The feature event of the season was the appearance of Tony Trabert, who teams with Billy Talbert as the first-seeded doubles team in the nation, and his University of Cincinnati teammates on the Hanover courts.

Six men received varsity letters in tennis this year. Tom Smith, Dave Hacker, Dick Wardell and Bud Leonard occupied the first four spots on the five man squad, with Ed Minty and Bob Evenson alternating in the fifth position. Hacker was named by his teammates as honorary captain for the year.

Women's Athletic Assn.

Inaugurating the W. A. A.'s parade of activities this year was the annual Y. W. C. A.-W. A. A. orientation picnic for incoming women, soon after which intramurals were underway with field hockey and soccer leading the sports list. Homecoming day saw the volleyball team trounce the alums 42-16. The next major event on the W. A. A. calendar was the Halloween Ghost Walk through Parker's Peril.

The varsity basketball team turned in a good year with its slate showing six wins and three losses. The Pantherettes blasted over Indiana Central 42-17 in the first game of the season, but in the return match, I. C. eked out a 36-32 victory over our girls. The next encounter saw Franklin succumb to a 47-30 defeat.

At a basketball playday here, University of Cincinnati walked off with top honors, while Western of Ohio copped second place. But Hanover took third winning three games and dropping two, both of which were by one-point margins.

Racquet artists

Phi Mu captured first honors in intersorority games by nudging second-place Alpha Omicron Pi 23-20 in the playoff game. Independent women smashed over the Un-organized women 22-11 to gain third and fourth places, respectively.

Miss Mary Price and Mrs. Bobbie Hill entertained the W. A. A. members at the annual Christmas party at their home.

Volleyball next in the spotlight. our women's varsity had an undefeated season winning all 11 of its games. The Pantherettes swept over all five opponents at a Butler playday, scoring 141 points to the losers' total of 58. Though the Hanover faculty men tried hard, the varsity rudely upset them in both games, 42-16 and 26-15.

Engaging Taylor twice. Ball State, and Indiana University at Ball State's playday, the W. A. A. pounded all opponents for a total of 87 points to their 40. The little Hilltoppers totaled 296 points to the opponents' 129 for the entire season.

The winners of the round-robin doubles tourney in badminton were Betty Hopping and Betty Ross, and Polly Hacker and Jo Robinson. Ginny Vogel and Joan Templin paced the W. A. A. bowlers with high games of 165 and 159, respectively.

Early in the spring, Millie Lemen and Glo Miles represented us at the National Conference of the Athletic Federation of College Women at Ann Arbor, Michigan.

After spring recess, archery and tennis were in the sports highlight with Carolyn Good pacing the female Robin Hoods with 127 points. No tournament was played in tennis because of the short season, but 12 racketeers got quite a bit of good practice.

Softball rounded out the sports calendar for the year, and the annual spring picnic, at which awards were presented, closed this year's W. A. A. activities book.

Special commendation for guiding the W. A. A. in its activities should be given to the Board members: Anitsa Nussis, president; Jeanette Ross, v. pres.; Ev Erdmann, sec.; Millie Lemen, treas.; Jo Bettinger, intramural mgr.; Sue Boedeker, publications; Dottie Hetzler, publicity; Glo Miles, project ch.; Betty Ross, social ch.; and Miss Mary Price and Mrs. Bobbie Hill, faculty advisors.

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS...

FROM HOUSE TO HOUSE . . .

Social organizations are a meaningful part of the Hanover College whole. The five fraternities, three sororities and two independent groups maintain high standards of character, scholarship, and loyalty to the college. On Hanover's small campus each group functions in harmony with the others. We have cooperative groups that participate in friendly competition.

The friends we make, the fun we have, the characters that are shaped and the important lessons we learn in cooperation, service, healthy competition, and loyalty are taught us through membership in social organizations as well as through being individuals in the college community. Some of it is work, a lot of it is fun, but all of it is important.

Interfraternity Council

The Hanover College Interfraternity Council has this year been judged the best in the nation. The award was announced at the annual National Interfraternity Council Convention in New York. All colleges and universities in the nation were divided into four groups according to size, and the winner of each group competed to determine the best council of all. Hanover's council won the B group trophy and was then chosen for the top honor.

The competing councils were judged on the basis of written report on the following subjects: Relations with the college, relations with the community, relations with the student body, inter-house relations, "hell week" reductions and letters of endorsement. Members of the faculty, administration, community and heads of various welfare groups submitted the letters of endorsement.

The five hundred pound, solid bronze trophy presented to the Interfraternity Council is pictured on page 12 and is located in the lobby of Classic Hall. The B group trophy awarded to the council is passed from house to house. The college and council are proud of this honor and are working to maintain their high standards so that we may again next year be rated above all other colleges and universities in the country.

The two representatives from each of Hanover's five fraternities meet regularly to consider rush regulations, inter-house harmony, and community-college functions. Many services, as the Red Cross Blood Bank at the college, are organized and supervised by this group. The Interfraternity Council plays an important and creditable part in the Hanover College activities and is indispensable to our social organizations.

Pan-Hellenic Council

The Pan-Hellenic Council serves much the same purpose for the women in Greek letter organizations as does the Interfraternity Council for the men. Three representatives from each of the three sororities meet regularly to determine rush rules and pledging regulations. To acquaint the freshmen women with the function and purpose of sorority life, a Freshmen Tea is given by the council at the beginning of rush, which takes place during the first four weeks of the fall semester.

During the college year the council sponsors such activities as the adoption and financial support of a war orphan in another country, the organization of a Pan-Hellenic picnic for all sorority women, a cooperative dance for the combined sororities, and many other social and governmental practices to cement sorority relations on the Hanover campus.

During the past years the council has made changes in rush regulations, as changes are needed, to make the functioning more smooth. The period for rushing was changed by vote of the council from the first three days of school to the first four weeks, in order to give the freshmen women a better opportunity to see the sororities in action and to become better acquainted with the upper classmen and one another before a choice is made.

The sororities at Hanover College are cooperative and more meaningful due in large part to the effort of the governing body, the Pan-Hellenic Council.

Alpha Delta Pi

With high hopes for an exceptionally good year during the celebration of Alpha Delta Pi's centennial anniversary, Phi chapter began its activities with an informal rush party at the Alpha Delt Castle. Following the traditional Black Diamond dinner, twenty eight were pledged. With Marilyn Megorden as Homecoming Queen candidate, our decorations centered around candy canes and a slogan of "Lick 'em Panthers". Skit night rolled around, and Phi captured top honors. We proudly claimed the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, Marie Bartling, now Mrs. Jack Johns.

The Christmas season found us at the Snowflakes Whirl, our formal dance. This was followed by the traditional Christmas formal dinner at the house. The annual George Washington Tea was held for faculty and students in February. The pledges entertained their active sisters with an informal Backwards Party and a formal dessert, using Wishing Wells as the theme. Our Spring dance, the Diamond Dive, carried out a night club theme.

April 6th was the big day for the pledges, and initiation was followed by the second formal Violet Initiation Dinner. Carolyn Snyder received the model pledge cup, and Jane Rogers carried top scholastic honors. The Centennial theme dominated this year's State Day at which Phi chapter won honors for one hundred per cent attendance. One of the biggest events of the year was the Centennial Reception for students, faculty, alums, and parents.

Again Phi led all Greek letter organizations in scholarship. Marilyn Megorden was honored by being presented the state Pan-Hellenic scholarship. Phi members holding offices in the various organizations on campus were Kathy Radmacher, Teddy Schwenke, Scotty Andrew, Mary Pitts, Dotty Diggs, Susie Arend, Betty Lou Davis, Jeanette Ross, Sue Boedeker, Joyce Holst, and Marilyn Megorden.

New members of Gamma Sigma Pi this year were Shirley Hungate, Jeanette Ross, and Barbara Stuhlmacher. Recent additions to Alpha Phi Gamma were Joyce Holst and Jeanette Ross. Winnie Able and Kathy Radmacher were elected to Delta Epsilon. Susie Arend, Mary Pitts, Teddy Schwenke and Cora Mae Rogers became members of Pi Gamma Mu. Theta Alpha Phi took Scotty Andrew.

The members of Phi chapter are proud of their achievements for this year, but we take greater pride in being a part of the National Centennial Convention of Alpha Delta Pi, the first female secret society.

Alpha Omicron Pi

"How would you like to be an AOPi?" Eleven girls answered this question positively on Spike Day of this year. Phi Omicron chapter is spending its second year on the Hanover campus.

On February 25th we gave a tea in honor of the installation of the chapter, which took place exactly a year from that date. "The Secret of the Red Shoes", a musical presentation, was our contribution to the Skit Night program.

Rushees were entertained by a Cinderella skit at an informal kindergarten party. The formal Rose Dinner was the highlight of the rushing season. There rushees became acquainted with the beautiful red rose of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Marie Freeman, a true Southern Belle, was AOPi's candidate for Homecoming Queen. Shelia Spicer represented the chapter as a candidate for Cherry Blossom Queen.

December 8th found the members of Phi Omicron chapter celebrating Founder's Day at the University of Cincinnati with Theta Eta chapter. In April, State Day was held at the Columbia Club in Indianapolis.

Patients at Cragmont, the Madison State Hospital, are entertained annually by a Christmas and a spring program. Each week six girls go to Cragmont to talk with the patients and to entertain them. Transportation for this project is provided by our patronesses Mrs. Miles, Mrs. Calvert, Mrs. Fox, Miss Black, Mrs. Dunlap and Mrs. Dupre.

"Swing your partner" echoed throughout Woods Field-house as the AOPi's entertained their dates at a Square Dance. The second annual Rose Ball was held March 3rd. Pledges and new initiates were presented at this formal affair.

On March 1st, eight pledges were initiated into Phi Omicron chapter. The Ruby "A" pin for the model pledge was presented to Pat Walne. Donna Strettar received the activities award, with Barbara Eskew capturing the scholarship cup.

Ruth Murphy was initiated into Theta Alpha Phi. Members of Hanover Players include Jean Horner, Donna Strettar, Judine Silogy, and Ruth Murphy. Several members of AOPi participated in the chorus. WAA and various other activities. Carolyn Good held the office of secretary of SCA. Lorraine Watkins received the cup as the best woman bowler in the sorority league.

At the end of its second year Phi Omicron chapter is looking forward to many more years on the Hanover campus.

Phi Mu

October found twenty four new Phi Mu pledges wandering around campus complete with green headgear. Typical pledges that they were, they remembered to gripe and to look forward to spring and initiation.

Hanover took the "Vote for Mimi" slogan to heart, and Rho's candidate, Mimi Foltz, reigned as Homecoming Queen. The old nursery tale of the Spider and the Fly formed the theme for decorations, complete with sound effects at the lodge.

The pledge class celebrated George Washington's birth-day by honoring the activities with a formal dessert party at the lodge. The chapter reciprocated with initiation after spring vacation. And, in an "April in Paris" scene, Woods Field House was magically transformed for the spring dance.

Spring brought the state contest for Cherry Blossom Queen, and to Rho her biggest thrill. Janet McLaren was Phi Mu's and Hanover's choice for the honor. The big news came later when Jan was chosen to represent Indiana at the annual Cherry Blossom Festival held in Washington, D. C.

Rho was also proud when Eleanore Sanders was chosen by Phi Delta Theta and Jean Matson was selected by Lambda Chi Alpha as their annual sweethearts.

Honors were many this year with Anitsa Nussis receiving a Hanover Alumni Award. Anitsa also wielded the gavel of the PanHellenic Council and the Women's Athletic Association.

Carol Smith Friedersdorf served as president of the Pan Linguist Club and the Dormitory Council. Barbara Smith Walker was editor of the Revonah, Jeannette Jackson presided on the Steering Committee of the Public Affairs Forum. In Gamma Sigma Pi, Alpha Phi Gamma, and Theta Alpha Phi, Rho was well represented.

On May Day, Anitsa Nussis of Phi Mu was crowned Queen for Hanover's beautiful spring festival. A wonderful year ended for Phi Mu to remember.

Independent Women

Another year has drawn to a close—a wonderful year for the Independent Women of Hanover College. It is a year of memories—.

The serenade for Homecoming Queen complete with a horse and buggy and candidate Betty Hopping.

Skit Night—"I Can't Say No" with bare feet and straw hats.

Initiation—six o'clock Sunday morning with half-awake pledges gazing down at their new pins.

Singing in chapel—brave voices rising clear in spite of shaking knees.

The presentation of the scholarship cup for the first semester—the result of cooperation in studying on the part of each girl and especially those honor roll girls who further assured us of the cup.

Those little duties so willingly done—gathering up coke bottles and filling the coke machine.

The delightful picnics and those wonderful patronesses who are always sparing and sharing.

Yes—there are memories. Memories for the new initiates of a friendly hand extended in welcome—of meeting girls of different countries, backgrounds and belief—of giving much and getting much in return— Good memories for a first year.

Memories for seniors—of traditions—the Thanksgiving tea, the formal dances, the Mother-Daughter Banquet, of old faces going but always bright new faces to take their places. Good memories to take into a dark world.

Memories for all—of warmth—of laughter—of an indefinable something that makes the Hanover Independent Women.

Independent Men

Hanover Independent Men are proud of their start as a permanent organization on campus. This year has been a landmark in the early history of H. I. M. in that through the cooperation of the college administration we were allowed the use of a large room in the basement of Men's Residence Hall. Around this room are built the hopes of the future. We have at last acquired a home.

The social scene this year saw two dances, both in association with the Independent Women. The first, a Christmas dance, was open to the college. With the second semester came our Spring formal which carried out a Mexican theme.

The organization is proud of its graduating members. David Barnett, who became known as an excellent campus photographer, and Kenneth Good, our president, are taking graduate training in Social Service at Indiana University Extension in Indianapolis. Herbert Strauss, winner of an Alumni Award and Richard Anderson are enrolled in theological seminaries in Chicago and Louisville respectively. Yong Suk Suh, our member from Seoul, Korea, and Perry Coleman are also seniors we are sorry to lose.

Sports played their part in the organization. We participated in track, tennis, volleyball, bowling, and ping pong.

Our hopes are set high for a brighter future and more of that Independent success.

Beta Theta Pi

Curricular and extracurricular activities, athletics, dances, picnics and hayrides rounded out the ninety-seventh year on Hanover's campus of Beta Theta Pi, Hanover's oldest fraternal group.

For eleven men, the bonds of Beta as undergraduates were closed with June commencement. To supplement this loss, six men were initiated on May 12th. Bob Reed climbed to the president's chair in the mid-year elections to replace Frank Coons, June graduate.

During Homecoming Iota chapter entertained a large group of Alums. Continuing the reputation we have gained for elaborate decorations, the Betas featured a Penthouse Serenade theme at the fall formal dance held at the Madison Armory. Outstanding in the fall round of activities was the event every Beta looks forward to and cherishes in his memory.....the trip to illustrious alumnus, John H. Perry's southern colonial estate in the bluegrass region of Kentucky. There we enjoyed fried chicken and baked ham followed by an afternoon of entertainment and wholesome Beta fellowship. It is an annual affair with attendance from Hanover, Centre, and Cincinnati chapters. Highlighting the winter social scene was the annual Christmas Faculty tea.

Varsity competition saw a well-rounded group of athletes from the Beta house. Tom Houser was chosen as Hanover's Most Valuable Football Player, and William Moorhead was named to the Indiana College All-Star Basketball team. Leo Kelly, the baseball team's Most Valuable Player, was made captain for next year. Intramural athletic activity found the Betas well represented in all competitions. Tom Houser brought additional laurels to the Betas by winning the intramural ping pong tournament.

In extra-curricular activities the Betas remained high in participation. Heading the editorial staff of the Triangle was Woodfin Jones. Betas also led Theta Alpha Phi, Men's Glee Club, and the Hanover Band, in addition to being well represented in all campus groups. Reinstatement of the Inter-fraternity Sing contest brought the trophy to the Beta House again this year.

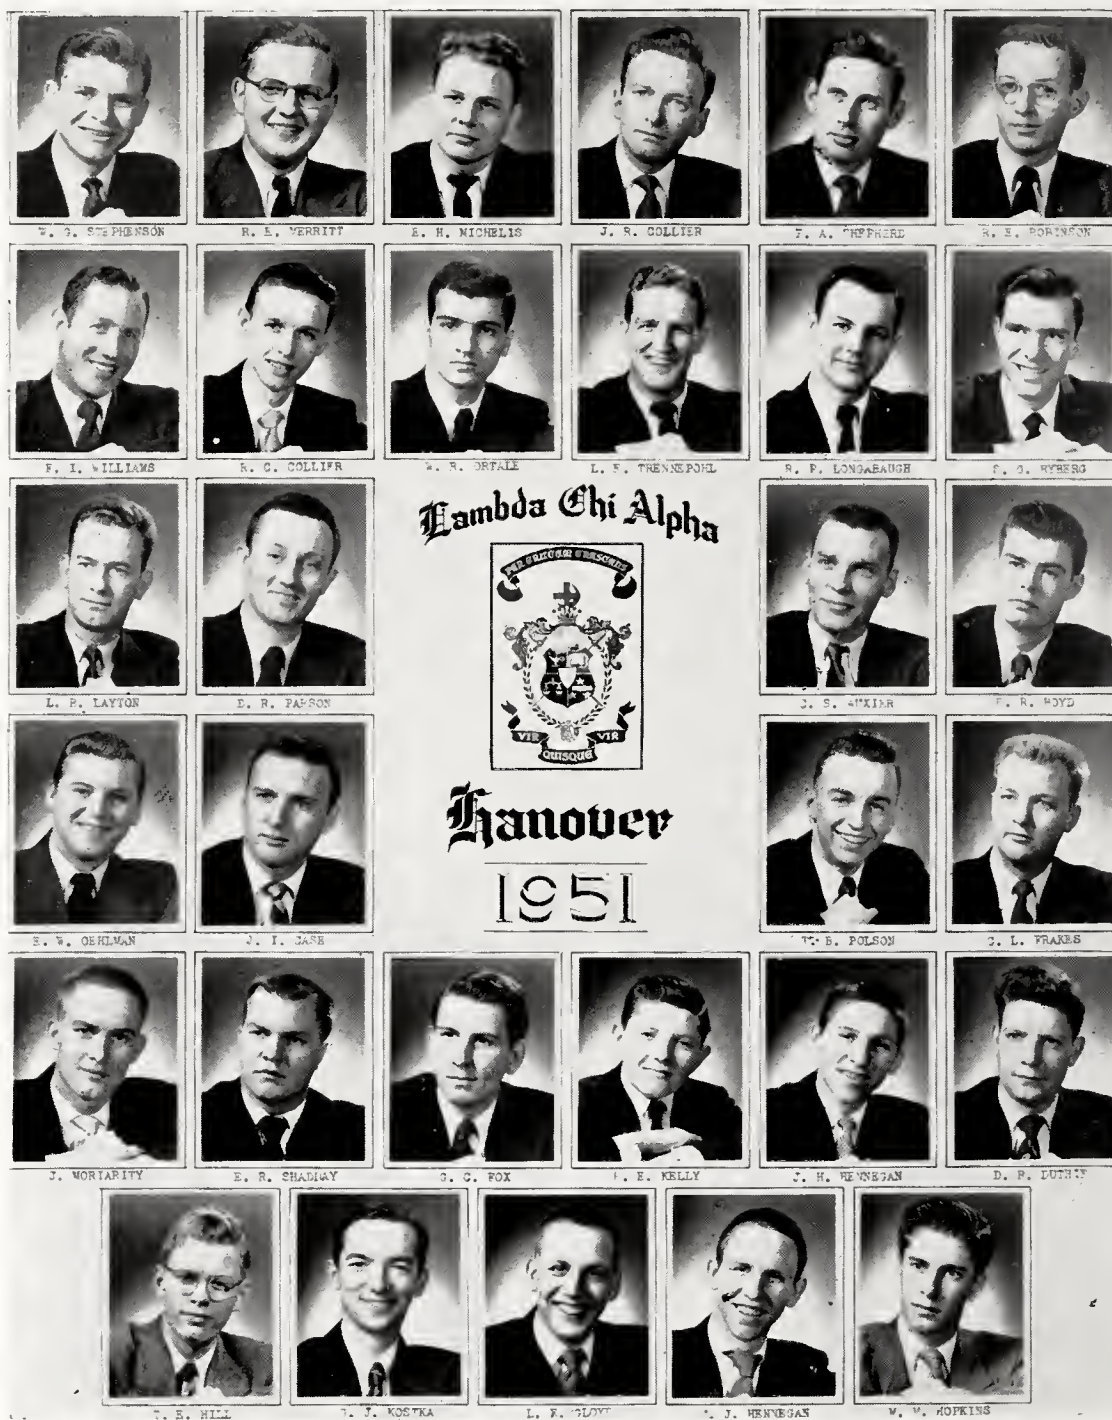

In every phase of college life, Beta Theta Pi has truly left its mark, and looks to even greater activity in the coming year.

Lambda Chi Alpha

Theta Zeta began the year fifty-two strong, but being hard hit by midyear graduation and increased draft calls we finished the second semester with thirty-eight men. However, the chapter carried on with its usual participation in sports, social life, and campus activities.

John Collier was president of the Interfraternity Council, and in that capacity played an important part in the Council's winning of the National Interfraternity Conference trophy for the best undergraduate interfraternity council in the nation.

Lynn Layton served as president of the senior class. Paul Suit and Robert Merritt were elected to Delta Epsilon, National Science Honorary Fraternity.

The fall formal season was brought to a successful climax with the "Gay Nineties Ball" with Wood's Field House looking like a typical scene from that era. At various times during the year house parties, and of course the annual Monte Carlo party were held. Something new was tried with the spring dance by holding a semi-formal dance outdoors at Clifty Falls State Park. At this affair Jean Matson, Phi Mu, was elected annual Lambda Chi Alpha Sweetheart.

At State Day, held this year at Butler University, Theta Zeta was honored by winning the inter-chapter sing trophy. A luncheon, dinner, and dance at the Butler Union Building climaxed a successful weekend.

Skit night featured the "Red Rum Mystery", and Homecoming decorations centered around a huge cake and the words "We Knew You Were Coming, so We..." After the game the chapter entertained forty alums at the College Recreation Center.

Our annual alumni picnic was rained out this year, so instead of roasting hot dogs at Clifty, we did it at the house! At our annual Winter Banquet the guest of honor was the National Headquarters Travelling Secretary, Louis Plourd.

With the initiation of Charles Henry, Ronald Austin, and Garland Frazier, Theta Zeta added three faculty members to the chapter rolls.

The new television set which replaced the old one, having the distinction of being the first permanent set on Hanover's campus, led to the election of Rosemary Olberding, a Cincinnati television star, as honorary Sweetheart of Lambda Chi.

Phi Delta Theta

The Phi Delts started the year with the initiation of twenty-two, and held a banquet in their honor. The special guests were Paul C. Beam, the Phi Delt Executive Secretary, and Hilton U. Brown, the "Grand Old Man of Phi Delta Theta." The Homecoming theme fit the modern age of flying saucers, and the skit-nite theme portrayed the graduation of the faculty. Cliff Butler played for a most successful Christmas dance.

We lost the following brothers to the Armed Forces during the school year: Jarvis Castetter and J. C. Goodman to the Navy and Frank Pease, Jim Lloyd, Jim Zimmerman, and Bob Copple, who has since been reported missing in action, to the Army.

The Phi Delts participated widely in the varsity sports of football, basketball, golf, track, in which sport Bob Shelburne was named the Most Valuable Player, and baseball. Other activities have included the Hanover Players, Public Affairs Forum steering committee, Student Christian Association, and the Music organizations. Fred Harlow was newly elected treasurer of the Student Council.

The house cooperated with the Betas and Sigma Chis to make the First Annual Miami Triad Dance with Johnny Long and his orchestra a huge success.

A Phi Delta Theta Mother's Club was organized this year which has greatly increased the interest of both the mothers and fathers in the activities of their sons away from home. This year has also seen the incorporation of a new chapter house association by the alumni.

For those who lived through it, the two weeks spent without heat in the house will never be forgotten! The reception of the new boiler outdid any social event of the year!

Jack Riner was this year President of Gamma Sigma Pi and class Valedictorian. The Phi Delt Sweetheart for '51 was Phi Mu Eleanore Sanders, but the sweetheart of the house through the years has been "Mom" Gray, the mom away from home to the Phi Delt.

A report of the year would not be complete without mention of Max, the new Phi Delt mascot. Even if he is not very pretty and has trouble with the faculty, he's lovable when you get to know him!

Phi Delta completed its 90th year with the initiation of fourteen men, and continues to represent the deepest meaning of fraternity brotherhood.

Phi Gamma Delta

Once again the Fijis have achieved an enviable record this year. Returning to campus this fall, the Fijis found that they had retained the Sigma Chi Scholarship Trophy from the previous year as a starter for scholastic achievement for this year. During the ceremonies at Phi Gamma Delta State Day, Tau chapter was awarded for the second time in a row a sterling silver punch bowl for achieving the highest degree of chapter excellence of all the Phi Gamma Delta chapters in the state. In January of this year, the Fiji's once again regained the President's Trophy for the best scholastic average for the fall semester.

Homecoming found the Fiji Castle disguised as a giant gun emplacement blasting down our opponents, while behind the scenes were held the annual Chili Dinner and the alumni get-together. "A Harvest Ball" formal dance was held in the fall, complete with corn shocks and pumpkins. During the Christmas season, Tau once again played host to local under-privileged children to the tune of food, candy, toys and clothing. Following the children's party, the chapter entertained their dates with a dance and a gift exchange. The spring informal dance was the traditional "Fiji Island" affair with the girls attired in stunning sarongs and the fellows garbed in all forms of out-landish costumes. The interior of the house was fixed to resemble a village complete with waterfalls and all kinds of shrubbery. The Faculty Breakfast in May proved to the men of Tau chapter that professors can be cheerful that early in the morning.

In extra-curricular activities the Fijis held down the following positions: President of the Chorus, Business Manager for the Men's Glee Club, President and Secretary-Treasurer in Chi Epsilon Phi, Treasurer in the Student Christian Association, President in the Y. M. C. A., President and Secretary-Treasurer in Varsity "H", President of the Student Council, and Historian for the Inter-Fraternity Council.

In Intramural sports, the Fijis have won four out of a possible ten trophies. The A team in basketball finished in first place while the B team was runner-up. Fiji volleyball teams, both A and B won both of their respective leagues, and the Fijis finished in first place in the intramural track meet.

In varsity sports, sixteen Fiji men won a total of twenty two letters for this year, having six Fijis out of the first twenty two men on the football squad, four out of the first seven on the basketball squad, and one man holding the third man slot on the tennis squad.

During the year twenty two men were added to the rolls of those who proudly wear the black diamond, bringing the chapter total up to fifty-eight. As the year draws to a close, the future looks bright for continued success and further achievement.

Sigma Chi

This year saw the revival of some old traditions of Chi chapter as well as the inauguration of a few new ones. For the first time since the war a White Rose Sweetheart Dance was held. During the intermission Marie Bartling, Alpha Delta Pi who is now married to Brother Jack Johns, was crowned sweetheart of the chapter by consul Gus Washburn.

Really a first on this campus was Chi's Watermelon Feast to which the entire college community was invited one sunny afternoon in October. The Sigma Chi combo furnished some "hot" music while the crowd consumed over 150 watermelons.

Since last year Chi has moved up one rung on the scholarship ladder from third to second place among the fraternities on campus, being nosed out the first semester of this year by the very narrow margin of .0173. This means that we are in the running for the Sigma Chi foundation cup which is given at the end of the year to the fraternity on campus with the best yearly average.

Chi is mighty proud of the trophies won this year. The first to be added to the mantle was the large and beautiful cup for the best Homecoming decorations. It was followed soon by the addition of the intramural football, bowling, and B team basketball trophies.

In varsity sports Chi boasts captains of four varsity teams. Jack Johns captained the football team. Tom Foreman is captain of the cross country team. Mason Garrison is captain of the baseball team, and Barney Scott led the basketball team and was named Most Valuable Player.

Our annual rush banquet was held at the Hillside Hotel in Madison in December, and on January 30th the Norman shield was placed on the lapels of 26 men; our largest pledge class since 1917.

Another first this year was the inauguration of our new publication Chi Lites, published twice a year and sent to all the alumni and nearby chapters. Our Bulletin is sent out every May to all the active chapters and the alumni.

Highlight of the social season this year was the Miami Triad Dance held in Lynn Hall on April 27th. Wonderful music was furnished by Johnny Long and his orchestra. This gala affair was made possible through the co-operation of the Miami Triad fraternities on campus, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Chi.

Men of Chi are active in almost every kind of campus activity. Chi is represented in the honorary scientific, scholastic and theatrical fraternities, as well as in the various clubs, choir, chorus, and men's glee club.

One of the goals for which we are striving is a new chapter house which we hope to build in the near future. While planning for a new house we are not neglecting our present home which was painted this fall. The downstairs will be refurnished this spring.

SENIORS AND UNDERCLASSMEN...

The freshman year of being so new at everything, and the senior year of wishing you knew then what you know now seem the best, but the middle years are important too, and we wouldn't part with any of them. Each year we learn new lessons from textbooks and from life. We learn to cooperate with people because we find that mutual help gets things done faster. We learn to like people because we can see in them the things that really count. We learn lessons that we don't realize, but we know we've learned them because we are different people when we leave. Finally we learn that there is no end to learning about anything. Whether freshmen or seniors or in between; we learn.

MEET AMERICA'S CAPITALISTS

Everyone who has a bank account, a life insurance policy, a U. S. Savings Bond or a share of stock is a capitalist—a stockholder in the free enterprise system that makes America's living standard the highest in the world. Our enterprise system is the fairest method of rewarding initiative. It's the American way of doing things. When someone calls you a capitalist, stick out your chest. He's saying you are an American.
